

Mark LeMaire Joins Blue Marble Risk Solutions

Monday, August 10, 2009

Houston, TX — Blue Marble Risk Solutions announced that Mark LeMaire has joined the firm. LeMaire’s expertise spans both the commercial and manufacturing construction markets and has a solid foundation in construction change management and field operations. The addition of LeMaire to the team represents continued and consistent growth within the company.

“We are pleased to welcome Mark to Blue Marble,” says Katherine Molly, managing partner of Blue Marble Risk Solutions. “Mark’s commercial and industrial background will provide a tangible benefit to our clients as they maneuver through the challenges involved with expanding their facilities.”

Prior to joining Blue Marble Risk Solutions, LeMaire gained expertise working for top commercial construction companies and held positions in planning, scheduling, cost control, contract due diligence and negotiations, and project change control management. LeMaire was instrumental in initiating team focused best practice methods for improved project efficiency and risk mitigation.

“Coming on board with Blue Marble represents a real opportunity to make a difference.” says LeMaire. “I look forward to bringing my previous experience to the table and offer clients profitable business solutions for their complex issues.”

Blue Marble Risk Solutions is an innovative advisory firm specializing in strategic planning, risk management and dispute resolution for capital projects. Its unique services are designed to maximize the value of capital investments and minimize the risks of project execution.

The company works with clients to achieve success by aligning with them in times of growth, project cost overruns or schedule delays, contract disputes, or on-going issues with project performance. Blue Marble Risk Solutions helps its clients determine and execute the most direct path to project and corporate success.